DETAILED ACTION

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Objections

Claim 12 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. Claim 12 defines structural limitations, however, its' parent claim is a method. Hence it fails to further limit the method.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3, 7-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by WO 99/59147.

Applicant's attention is drawn to the English language equivalent – US 6448543. The examiner relies upon such for providing an English language translation of the WO document.

As noted therein, see the description of figure 1 for instance, appropriate electrodes are provided in a near field optical head to permit the appropriate recording of information upon a medium.

The limitations with respect to method claims 7-12 are present when the system operates. With respect to the limitations of claim 2, although no switching element is depicted, because this element is used for both recording and reproducing, appropriate switching ability/element(s) must inherently be present in order to function accordingly.

The entire optical near field head is interpreted as meeting the pedestal limitation of claim 3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

5. Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the art as applied to claims 1-3 and further considered with Watanabe et al.

Claim 4 calls for the appropriate optical elements relied upon in the near-field environment, objective lens, focusing lens, collimator, beam splitter, etc. All of these elements are standard requirements as further discussed by Watanabe et al.

It would have been obvious to modify the base system of the WO document with the above additional elements taught by the Watanabe et al system, motivation is to actually record and reproduce information from the disc.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hatakeyama et al – depicting a mag. Head with appropriate optical sources, polarization capability, and photo- detecting as well as conducting electrical wires – conductors as further discussed – see the abstract.
